TECHNICAL ADVICE

We want our partners to benefit from our technical know-how and experience. The distribution of our products via technical consultants ensures that our customers receive the support they need in order to apply our products effectively and properly. That is why our customers worldwide can rely on our advice wherever it is needed:

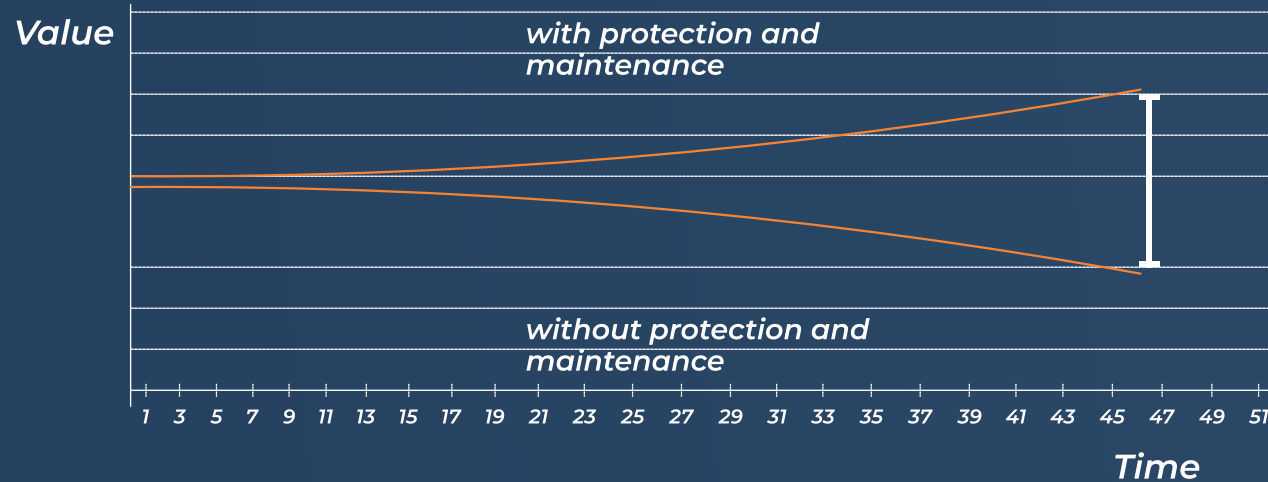

Personally.....directly on the construction site..... and on the phone.

Individual waterproofing solutions: our flexibility is your advantage.

Sometimes waterproofing problems cannot be solved by existing products or methods but need an individual solution. Together with our customers we analyze each situation and then develop a customized solution for their specific problem.

Waterproofing is the most cost effective way to maintain the value of a building

Why quality? As a general rule, more than 80% of damages to apartment buildings are due to the effects of water. Typically, for less than 5% of the construction cost quality waterproofing can be achieved.

"Nobody Covers You Better"

What is the best waterproofing solution for specific situation? DBS Building Products gives great importance to training in order to get the greatest value for our customers. Architect & Contractors and other interested persons are frequently trained to ensure that they possess in-depth theoretical and practical knowledge about our products and about waterproofing technology. Technical training is carried out at the training centre in India as well as Brussels (Belgium).

Good waterproofing solutions require analysis of the construction, a professional concept, and the right products.

Technical Training at DBS Building Products...

and in practice

Our waterproofing systems protect and preserve valuable buildings and structures worldwide.

DBS Building Products offers a comprehensive range of material in order to provide optimal solutions for the waterproofing of new buildings and restoration of old buildings.

Our high quality and long lasting waterproofing systems sustainably increase the life cycle of buildings. By preventing moisture damage, expensive repairs can be avoided and energy consumption can be reduced permanently.

Our goal is the satisfaction of our customers through exemplary service, our professionalism and competence.
